

Exhibit 1

M/A-COM, Inc. is a manufacturer of radio frequency transmitters, devices and components. This license, as amended, will cover the design, development, testing and demonstration of cellular land mobile, private land mobile and PCS components and transmitters. M/A-COM will coordinate with local licensees prior to each use under this license.

Since the current license expires June 1, 1996, M/A-COM seeks if possible to have this modification treated as a request for renewal also.
