

Necessary Bandwidth Description

The 1000 MHz bandwidth value is necessary to maximize the link budget, and therefore our ability to overcome the dynamic environment impacts on the link performance. This is done by using the low complexity modulation scheme of QSPK. This results in a low spectrum efficient figure thus requiring the full channel size to achieve the Gbps speed service to be tested.