

Launch Notification:

This letter confirms that Radix launched successfully on May 21st, 2018 onboard the OA-9 mission to resupply the International Space Station ("ISS"). Radix is currently stored on board the ISS and no transmissions have commenced.

Transmissions will commence post-deployment from the ISS at a date to be determined. Further notification will follow once transmissions have commenced.