

Description of Research Project

The overall goal of the Asgardia-1 Mission is to demonstrate long term storage of data in LEO. The spacecraft will carry a solid state disk drive, which is periodically checked for data integrity and function.

The Experimental License requested, is necessary to authorize radio transmission of data from the Asgardia satellite.