

Description of Use

The proposed operation is to provide safety and logistic support for a series of high altitude (120,000 feet) parachute jumps that will take place over several months (May – October 2014). Although none of the transmit antennas will be on structures there will be use at altitudes up to 120,000 feet as well as on the ground.