Justification for nationwide authority

Broadcast Microwave Services, Inc. manufactures and sells microwave links. As part of our selling process, we travel around the country giving demonstrations of our equipment to various customers. In order to radiate from our transmitters, we need an experimental license. All of our demonstrations are coordinated with SBE and US Government frequency coordinators so our demonstrations are conducted on a none interference basis. BMS has had an experimental license for 20+ years. Due to a change in personnel, our license was inadvertently allowed to expire. We are requesting an experimental license to allow us to continue demonstrating our products.
