

From: Sarah Trosch

To: Nimesh Sangani

Date: July 15, 2021

Subject: Additional Information Request

---

Message:

Each transmitter location will be analyzed for interference potential using the Atoll Network Planning Tool. All of the current Verizon STA locations in the 3700 MHz band go through this same initial analysis to assess interference potential. Any transmitter that is predicted to exceed the interference threshold will be adjusted or relocated in order to reduce the predicted signal level at that earth station. Additionally, Verizon intends to operate in the guard band below the lowest transponder operating range.