Re: Claircom Licensee Corporation
Transfer of Control of Experimental Authorization
Call Sign KF2XJD, File No. 0005-EX-TC-1999

Dear Ms. Salas:

ATG I, Inc. ("ATG"), by its attorney, hereby notifies the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC" or "Commission") that the parties will not be consummating the above-referenced transfer of control that was granted by the Office of Engineering and Technology ("OET") on March 2, 1999.¹ Claircom Licensee Corporation ("Claircom") is the holder of the above-referenced Experimental Authorization.

Claircom is a wholly owned subsidiary of Claircom Communications Group, Inc., which in turn is 90% owned by ATG. ATG and Iridium Aero Acquisition Sub, Inc. ("Iridium") requested Commission consent to transfer control of the above-referenced authorization from ATG to Iridium. Although the OET granted the above-referenced transfer of control on March 2, 1999, the parties will not be consummating the transfer of control.

For your review and use, we have enclosed a copy of the Public Notice granting the application to transfer control of the Experimental Authorization and a copy of the new Experimental Authorization issued as a result of the transfer of control. Both the Public Notice and the new authorization were generated by OET's electronic filing database. Accordingly, ATG requests that the Commission make the necessary changes to its database to reflect that control of the above-referenced authorization did not transfer to Iridium and control remains with ATG.

Please direct any correspondence or questions regarding this matter to the undersigned.

Sincerely,
