Hi Nimesh,

I apologize, the exhibit mentioning illumination in our "aircraft facility" was an error. It is a manufacturing facility with a lab testing area that we are illuminating with GPS. We manufacture geotechnical engineering devices that we would like to test and experiment with indoors so we can provide innovative applications and continue to provide safe products.

Searching our address (10815 Woodedge Drive Houston, Texas 77070) online will show that we are located in an urban environment, not an aircraft facility.

I have uploaded an updated application narrative correcting this error to our application's exhibits.
