Nimesh,

Good afternoon. In answer to your questions below:

1. I must have inadvertently checked this box. Please remove the need for Confidentiality, we do not require it.
2. No, we are not jamming, spoofing or performing electronic attack under this experimental license.
3. Below is the updated Narrative:

“This is a program done on internal research and development to develop an illuminator for a missile test. The system comprises a signal generator to generate the RF signal, which is amplified and transmitted via a horn antenna. The signal is used to illuminate a target so that the missile under test can hone in on the target.”

Please let me know if you require any additional information via email or phone (703-927-0830).

Thank you,
Jason
