Subject: Applications for Experimental Authorization Submitted by Enexus Energy

Gentlemen:

Bruce Romano, who is copied here, recommended that I send you an e-mail regarding applications submitted this week that have the file numbers below:

0495-EX-PL-2008

There's an attachment to the applications that explains their purpose, but I thought it would be productive to provide that explanation in this e-mail as well. Although these applications request new licenses, they cover already authorized and operating facilities. As the attachment indicates, Entergy Corporation ("Entergy") the parent company of the current licensee, Entergy Systems, Inc. ("ESI") is transferring ownership of some (but not all) of the plants at which the authorized equipment operates. Therefore, the new plant owner (Enexus Corporation, or "Enexus") requires its own licenses for these facilities. After the Entergy/Enexus transaction closes, ESI will modify its current licenses to delete reference to the sites at the plants transferred to Enexus.

Please let me know if you have any questions regarding the applications and thanks for your help.

Best,

Russell H. Fox
