

The planned research is to investigate the propagation of MF radiation using extremely low data rate communications. This effort will be undertaken using existing WSPR network to confirm communications.

James Knighton