

The purpose for the frequency license is to test the command and control radio system being installed on one of Kratos's UAV platform. Various commands and UAV status will be transmitted between the UAV and the ground control station on the ground, not in flight, system checkout.

Kratos will also verify the the onboard Flight Termination System is operational by sending an UHF signal to the Flight termination system.