

This experimental license will be utilized for testing of Mobile Handsets manufactured by Kyocera Wireless Corp. prior to completing the certification of the device. All products, prior to sale, will receive an equipment authorization granted by the FCC.

Kyocera Wireless Corp. requests a nationwide experimental license due to the fact that the product is tested by multiple carriers located across the US. These tests are conducted prior to the official authorization being completed.