

1634-EX-ST-2017
EL891046

Experimentation Description: Frequencies are required to demonstrate new radio direction finding and collection system. Grant of the License would provide the ability to transmit test signals in the authorized bands to verify the efficacy of our signal detection and location systems. Handheld portable radios will only be used for this test and not for any other purpose. No fixed base stations will be used. Demonstration is scheduled for 11 Dec 2017 however the demonstration could be delayed due to weather. Demonstration will last a few hours during the daytime and only a few days in a month.