

L3Harris Technologies is building a Terminal Sensor Subsystem that is intended to act as a low power radar device that detects moving vehicles and personnel. When a pre-defined target is detected, the Terminal Sensor Subsystem gathers and provides details regarding the location details of the vehicles and personnel.