

Exhibit 2

This Amendment is being filed to modify the proposed End Date of the experiment to January 2, 2019.

While this experiment will initially be conducted to support ANTX 2018 exercise as explained in the original filing, Leidos also now intends to operate these facilities to support survey work for NOAA. Having access to these facilities would allow Leidos to refine its autonomous operations while also collecting important bathymetry for NOAA charting.