

Response to Question 7, Description of Experiment

The Simrad Broadband 3G/4G commercial radars will be employed without modification as a low-power, known and controlled source. They will be used as a stimulus for the internal processing of a target system being developed.