

Description of Experiment

The attached Form 442 for a 2-year experimental license is submitted for the purpose of testing radar transmission techniques that will enhance a tactical radar performance, including its ability to detect targets in a hostile threat environment. Northrop Grumman is developing the radar technologies investigated under this authorization for sale to the U.S. Government for defense purposes.