

From: John Forrester

To: Behnam Ghaffari

Date: December 05, 2014

Subject: FCC File No. 0853-EX-PL-2014

Message:

The need for more than 50 deviecs is that the LTE testing may include evaluation of capacity/performance in an environment with a high density of user devices. In this situation more than 50 development devices may be required to represent a high density commercial use application. Most testing will consist of 5-20 devices.

Best regards,
John