Subject: SeeMe Satellite launch date

Hi Ben and Karl,

I just learned from Raytheon today that the SeeMe launch is currently scheduled for December 15, 2017. They are launching from India, as you already know. There is some possibility of the date moving up, but I was told that the date is fairly certain. It's changed many times, so I am aware that it could change again.

As I learn anything more, I will pass it along.

Do you need this information submitted in any more "formal" way?

Best regards,

Anne
