

Directional Antenna Information

The antenna will only be operated at an elevation of 10 degrees or more above horizontal, oriented to a passing satellite. With a beam width of 0.5 degrees, and occupying a local high point, there will be no radius of operation on the ground.