Dear Mr. Wolfe:

The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) Commercial Remote Sensing Regulatory Affairs Division (CRSRA) has received and reviewed your February 19, 2013 update on the owner and operator concerning your proposed remote sensing mission (PhoneSat) to be conducted from Earth orbit. Given that the new owner and operator is a U.S. Government agency (NASA), a license is no longer required. Should this situation change, please contact us for a re-evaluation.

Sincerely,
