

Justification of a five-year license

Telephonics is currently working on a project that involves the development, production and support of the new CP140 Imaging Radar System. The development and production phase of the project is scheduled for the next 3 years, which includes testing the performance of the radar system via rooftop testing. A support phase is expected to take place afterwards with a duration of more than 5 years, thus justifying our desire to receive a five-year term FCC license.