Question 4: Government Contract

Textron Aviation is developing multi-mission aircraft with a broad range of capabilities. The requested license is needed to support testing required to meet the commitments of a CRADA contract with the Air Force. The contract number is CRADA 19-126-AETC-01.

The overarching objective is to study airpower operations using General Aviation aircraft and tactical jet aircraft surrogates to determine the operational viability of enhanced command and control capabilities.

Very Respectfully,
