Message:

In response to the information requested, the actual emission designator requires the bandwidth as part of the designator code. The bandwidth is classified and cannot be entered in the OET online application. This information has been included in the submission received by the FCC security office. Reference DD-1494, transmitter equipment characteristics page.

The intended range of heights will vary up to 50,000 feet (15,240m) AGL.
