Hello Behnam Ghaffari,

As of Friday, 2/19, Iridium filed the companion license to support our application. Please let me know if you need anything else.

Our requested start date for the STA is July 1. However, we have an upcoming NASA safety review later in March for our project. I believe we need the license grant (approval?) as a part of that safety review. Please let me know if there is anything I can do on my end to facilitate the process. Thank you for your time.

Regards &ndash; Bill Smith
