

This authorization will be used in fulfilling the requirements of contract W56KGU-15-C-0009 with the United States Army, Army Contracting Command, Aberdeen Proving Ground Division A. This contract covers research and development of RF positioning technologies with included communication capability for tactical use by mounted and dismounted Army users in GPS-denied environments. The waveforms transmitted are designed to simultaneously provide ranging information for navigation and low rate data communication between users.