

Modulating Signal Description

A frequency sweep method will be used in our experiment by which the carrier frequency is swept from 1.2 GHz to 1.3 GHz in 100 discrete steps. In this process, the carrier frequency is changed by sending commands to the software defined radio from the host computer. This process is equivalent to frequency modulation of the carrier signal by a staircase signal.