

Below are included side and top views of a recently completed Italian Navy Coherer consisting of tapped graphite and stainless steel rods enclosed in an acrylic body, as built for use in the Experimental STA (File Number: 0072-EX-ST-2006). The coherer is displayed with a business card underlying for contrast and sans the mercury/metal filings contact material.

