

Justification for the large number of frequencies and transmitters contained in the STA Application for Live Video Production of World Ecological Project Event

The magnitude of this event, the large area involved and the significant number of crew that will require coordination dictates the need for the numerous frequencies and transmitters than have been requested.