

Reason for License Modification

BroncoSat-1 has been remanifested by the integrator, onto a later flight than was originally planned, into a different orbit. This was done because the originally manifested flight was rescheduled to even later in 2021.

The operating period and the orbit have changed, nothing else has changed with respect to the operator or the spacecraft.