

The City of Green Bay should be considered fee-exempt as it is a local government entity and per the regulations of the FCC, is exempt from paying registration and licensing fees.