

Exhibit 3

This application is for a frequency assignment for an XT station class. Purpose of the license request is for experimental RNSS Test Equipment usage for the purpose of testing GPS receivers and providing position location information to multiple military radios for the purpose of providing military commanders situational awareness display of the battlespace.