

Supporting Documentation

All RF emissions will be contained within the Grumman Studios. The existing structure of the building should significantly attenuate emissions outside the walls of the studios.