Mr. Hallock,

Under an experimental license, the emission designator contains 7 characters, with the last 3 following an alphabet + number + alphabet. Your STA is missing the last two characters, the number, and the alphabet.

Please provide this information so we can commence processing of your application.

Good afternoon,

I have tried multiple times to submit response through FCC website but keep receiving unexpected error. Please see below for response. Thank you.

We confirm that the antenna emissions data in this submission is correct and matches our previous Special Temporary Authority (STA) submission. No changes have been made to the frequency ranges, power levels, or emission characteristics previously reported.

Please let us know if anything specifically needs correction, and we will address it right away.

Best,

Trevor
