Subject: [Non-DoD Source] Dynetics, Inc. - MAG Coordination Request - Pending FCC File No. 0324-EX-CR-2019

Mr. Whittington:

Good afternoon – Hope all is well.

Twice previously, MAG has confirmed coordination for the discrete frequencies authorized under experimental Station WJ2XQZ – see attached “WJ2XQZ Current License.pdf”.
These frequencies were selected in coordination with you back in January of 2018.

See your emails below dated 8/21/2018 and 1/16/2018.

Dynetics is seeking only a one year renewal of this license – See “2019 Renewal Exhibit.pdf”

For this current renewal (File No. 0324-EX-CR-2019), this is to confirm that the FCC has requested MAG coordination for the above-referenced FCC experimental license.

Accordingly, Dynetics would greatly appreciate if you could please confirm continued MAG coordination for this license, for only a one year period – from August 21, 2019 through August 21, 2020.

Mr. Whittington:

Good afternoon.

This is to confirm that the FCC has requested MAG coordination for the above-referenced FCC experimental license application that is pending under File No. 0633-EX-CN-2018.

A scan of the pending application is attached.

Please note that, as explained in the Exhibit, this application is for the continuation of operations that were previously MAG-coordinated for STA under File No. 0002-EX-ST-2018.

Subject: [Non-DoD Source] MAG Coordination - Dynetics, Inc. - Pending STA Request - FCC File No. 0002-EX-ST-2018

Mr. Whittington:

Thank you very much for the materials relevant to this coordination.

Having reviewed the materials and confirmed its frequency requirements, Dynetics requests MAG approval of 4 frequencies (2 pairs of frequencies) in each of two bands selected from Annex B, for a total of 8 individual frequencies.

The specific preferred frequencies identified by Dynetics are as follows:

M301.025 thru M302.225: 301.3632, 301.5936, 301.8240, 302.0544

M321.025 thru M322.225: 321.4080, 321.6384, 321.8688, 322.0992

Please advise if these are acceptable to the MAG, or if additional discussion/review is warranted.

Best regards,

Jeff Rummel
