Tony,

Thank you for calling me today. I am glad to learn that the FCC special license process is working so well. Also, thanks for the update on the process for making a specific application.

I told you that my next project would be coming up in the week of the September 20th, 1999. The address for the testing will be: Tava Technologies, 2830 Perry Street SW, Albany, Oregon 97321. (If you know of a web site that converts address to location, let me know so I can use this and provide the information in the format you require.) The immunity testing will be performed during the night time hours of Midnight and 5 AM. The scheduled test date is September 22nd. However, that may change. I will not be sure of the exact date until I arrive on the job site and learn the project status.

Thanks, also, for the talking to me about the protected frequencies. If you have additional information, please direct me to it on the web or other sources that you might have.

It was a pleasure hearing from you. Please do not hesitate to contact me again with any questions.

Best regards,

Ashley Harkness
