To whom it may concern,

It looks like my applications has been bounced.

I guess I did not check with the website frequently enough. I never receive any mail regarding this application. I'm not sure where the email address came from but it was not correct.

I listed a range of frequencies to hopefully get feedback on which ones were more likely to work. If I just guess frequencies it could be a never ending loop.

I hope I don't have to start the process all over as it will greatly affect schedule.

Thanks for yor consideration
