

Attachment for Question #7

If granted the experimental license will be used for the following purposes.

1. To test new and upgraded radios in a real life environment.
2. To recreate customer reported problems and verify any fixes to such problems.
3. To do demonstrations of radio systems for potential customers.