

From: Robert H. Mitchell, Jr.

To: John Kennedy

Date: December 14, 2001

Subject:

FCC File #: 0281-EX-RR-2001- Reply

---

Message:

ExxonMobil regularly experiments and explores for petroleum projects throughout the United States on a continuous basis.

This experimental license is being used on a proprietary project to research geophysical methods to find hydrocarbons. This experimental fieldwork, which began in the year 2000, will continue for another five years. The different terrains and climates within the US are crucial to this project to compile results.