

Description of research project

The purpose is to test the capability and performance of GA-ASI Eagle Eye radar, SAR video mode only. Large radius of test region is to cover areas with different terrains to verify radar performance.

This is an airborne radar system, and hence there is no data transmitted or received. This is a radar system with improved performance, and eventually will enter deployment phase, first for US government customers.