

NECESSARY BANDWIDTH DESCRIPTION

The signal transmitted will be a continuous tone at a fixed frequency. Necessary bandwidth is calculated as an estimate based on the probable phase noise of the signal. The quality of the signal is such that spectral components outside a 1 Hz bandwidth will be greater than 80 dB below the carrier.