

The company is developing a WiMAX SmartMeter product based in 2.3 GHz frequency band. The WiMAX SmartMeter is being developed to support advanced electric power utility network automation.

Meters in the office will be coupled with Motorola DAP base station in a test lab without externally radiating antennas.