1. Identification of the specific information for which confidential treatment is sought:

The information which requires confidential treatment is in the document containing the RADHAZ information.

2. Identification of the Commission proceeding in which the information was submitted or a description of the circumstances giving rise to the submission:

Insitu submitted this application to protect proprietary manufacturing and testing processes.

3. Explanation of the degree to which the information is commercial or financial, or contains a trade secret or is privileged:

Insitu submitted this application because the information is of commercial value.

4. Explanation of the degree to which the information concerns a service that is subject to competition:

Insitu submitted this application because the information is commercially competitive.

5. Explanation of how disclosure of the information could result in the substantial competitive harm:

Insitu submitted this application because this information would provide advantages to competitors.

6. Identification of any measures taken by the submitting party to prevent unauthorized disclosure:

Insitu has classified the information as "Insitu Limited" which makes the information available only to a small selection of people within Insitu, and only on a need to know basis.

7. Identification of whether the information is available to the public and the extent of any previous disclosure of the information to third parties:

No Insitu Limited information is available to the public or third party.

8. Justification of the period during which the submitting party asserts that material should not be available for public disclosure:

No Insitu Limited information is available to the public or third party indefinitely.

9. Any other information that the party seeking confidential treatment believes may be useful in assessing whether its request for confidentiality should be granted:

No Insitu Limited information is available to the public or third party.
