Mr. Kennedy,

In late 2006, Lucent Technologies merged with Alcatel to form Alcatel-Lucent. Since Alcatel-Lucent is based in France, on January 1, 2007, Alcatel-Lucent spun off a wholly owned subsidiary named LGS Innovations, LLC to support US government customers. The organization requesting this experimental license is part of LGS, so I changed the name on the application from Lucent to LGS. From our point of view nothing has really changed other than our corporate name. Now that we are LGS, I do not believe that confidentiality of the application or the attachment is required.

Thanks,

Stuart Carpenter
