

Exhibit A
Expedited Processing Request

Expedited treatment is being requested for this STA to allow Lockheed Martin to participate in the CWID (Coalition Warrior Interoperability Demonstration) 2009 exercise. The equipment being developed will provide war fighters in the field high-bandwidth communications regardless of location. This technology also has potential to be used in support of first responders in homeland security applications and disaster-response events in the US.