

This modification application is being submitted as a classified modification application. Waveform particulars and operational particulars contain secret information. The classified portions of this document will be submitted under seperate cover to the security office of the FCC in accordance with the instructions of the March 1996 version of FCC form 442.