

Exhibit 1
Items 4 and 6

These radios are to supply specialized communications between the ground operations and mobile test bed operated on board aircraft. These aircraft are testing equipment being developed under a US Government contract N00019-00-C-0340. And will be used during the duration of the contract.