

Exhibit 1
Experimentation Description

These units are being installed and tested in aircraft designated for European customers, under contracts approved by the DoD. The systems are to be installed and tested prior to delivery to the designated customers, per contract requirements.